

Churchill, Roosevelt Confer At White House

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, May 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill are holding another council of war today with the trumpets of the Tunisian victory still sounding and the Allies poised to pound the Axis in both Europe and the Pacific.

The commuting British chieftain arrived last night on his third wartime trip to Washington, accompanied by a staff of military and naval experts.

As he and Mr. Roosevelt sat down to bring the enemy still closer to their "unconditional surrender" demands, the Tunisian success swept offensive strategy to a point where the United Nations high command could start activating plans for the next blow—plans undoubtedly blocked out at previous meetings between the two leaders and now due to be perfected and extended.

Hitler Worried

Across the sea, Hitler suddenly shifted his headquarters from the east to the west, according to the German radio, and doubtless wondered where the blow or blows would fall.

With no White House comment forthcoming as to the specific nature of the Washington discussions, speculation ran free. Informed persons here saw no reason to believe, however, that previously-laid strategy would be shifted—for instance, to provide for concentrating against Japan rather than Germany.

The expectation was rather that talks based on the situation surrounding the European invasion would be political rather than military, since the problems of the peace come constantly nearer as Allied armies advance.

War Strategy

Informed London observers, on the other hand, said flatly that war strategy was the prime purpose of the conference although conceding political problems involved in the invasion plans undoubtedly were being discussed—as well as coordination of Russian and other Allied moves.

In connection with the internal European problems expected to attend an invasion, it was noted that President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia was due to arrive in Washington late today, also for conferences with Mr. Roosevelt. Head of the London-harbored government-in-exile of the republic which Hitler dismembered, Benes was expected to present his plans for a postwar federation of central and eastern Europe, friendly to Soviet Russia.

Two Offensives

Also on the scene, although not as a member of the official party from England, is Lord Beaverbrook, London publisher and former British cabinet member.

In any case, the background for the discussions is certain to be military, and the pattern of future operations appears to call for (1) a supreme attempt to crack Hitler's "European fortress" wide open this summer and (2) an offensive against Japan employing the most powerful forces yet thrown into Pacific fighting.

Military experts emphasized that the cleanup of North Africa was a major contribution to projected operations in the Pacific as well as in Europe. Final conquest of Africa's Mediterranean coast line, it was said, will reopen the Mediterranean to United Nations shipping, cutting the distance from American east coast ports to the middle east.

A graduate of Dickinson college in 1920 and Drew Theological seminary, Madison, New Jersey, in 1923, the Rev. Mr. Fox became pastor of the local church November 1, 1930. He will celebrate the twentieth anniversary of his ordination at Christ Reformed church, Roaring Springs, in 1923 on May 20. He was vice president of the Mercersburg Synod for the last four years.

FIGHT AGAINST NAZIISM HELPS CHURCH GROWTH

"The European church is developing a vital spiritual attitude as a result of its fight against the Nazi regime," Dr. Roswell P. Barnes, assistant general secretary of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, said this morning in describing the resistance of Christian churches in Europe to Nazism and the result that fight has had in strengthening the religious outlook of Christians there.

Doctor Barnes was the speaker today at the eighteenth annual seminary week program at the Lutheran Theological Seminary here. Seminary week will close with graduation exercises Friday.

Doctor Barnes, who was ordained a Presbyterian minister in 1930 and was pastor of a New York city church before assuming his present position, presented a number of addresses today on the general theme of "The Church in the Present World Crisis."

Peace Issues

At 9:30 o'clock this morning he spoke on the "Basic Issues Facing the church." They include, he said, "whether the general public will eventually understand that the basic cause of war is a moral issue and whether the peace to follow the war will witness a moral collapse and a period of cynicism or whether there will be a period of dynamic righteous faith. Other problems to be posed by the peace are the questions of whether mankind will give itself to community order or whether it will revert to another period of self-interest and anarchy, and whether a democratic and Christian faith will become stronger."

The second lecture, at 11 o'clock, concerned what the church is doing to meet the various problems and the third lecture this afternoon was on problems the church must solve "before it can act on the basic issues posed by the war."

2 Speakers III

Two speakers scheduled for today, Dr. William Foxwell Albright, professor of semitic languages at Johns Hopkins university and the Rev. Dr. Walter W. Van Kirk, radio commentator on the program, "Religion in the News," were unable to be present because of illness, it was announced.

Remnants Are Hemmed In On Narrow Cap Bon

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Allied Headquarters in North Africa, May 12 (AP)—British armor has made a complete circuit of Cap Bon, has needled inward to round up the isolated enemy forces who are surrendering freely, and is fiercely hammering from all sides at the last remaining pocket of Tunisian resistance southwest of the peninsula, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced today.

So thoroughly had the patrols of Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson infiltrated into Cap Bon peninsula that Allied air bombing was called off because of the danger of hitting friendly troops.

Few Targets For Fliers

The Germans and Italians southwest of the peninsula were hemmed in a circular area only about 15 miles across, and this was being given severe punishment by the air forces as well as by the troops, but the communique said "the lack of suitable targets indicated the approaching end of the air battle over Tunisia."

While many Germans were still at large on Cap Bon's inland mountains, they were mostly service personnel not much interested in fighting.

The total of prisoners was expected to pass the 100,000 mark. The completed count in the area of the Second U. S. Army corps showed the Americans, Free French and Moroccan Goumiers had taken 37,998 prisoners, of whom 33,498 were Germans.

The Germans and Italians were offering considerable resistance, however, in the mountains west of Bou Fichta and north of Enfidaville.

They had been wedged off from Cap Bon by British armor driving south from Tunis which had reached Bou Fichta on the coastal road, 11 miles southwest of Hammamet on the peninsula and 15 miles north of Enfidaville.

This circle was being hammered on the north as well by British troops at Ste. Marie du Zit, 12 miles northwest of Bou Fichta; on the west by Oran, Algiers and Moroccan Divisions of Gen. Henry Giraud's French North African Army in the region east of Zaghouan, and on the south by a British Eighth Army and French force north of Enfidaville.

Lively Resistance

The British First Army column in reaching Bou Fichta from the north was within five miles of a junction along the coast with the British Eighth Army coming up from the south.

Just south of Bou Fichta, however, the First Army ran into lively resistance from a formation of German tanks and a screen of anti-tank guns which temporarily held it up.

East of Zaghouan, the French also met resistance after accepting the unconditional surrender of a large enemy force in the Zaghouan mountains.

Eighth Army units found a similar situation on their front, but pressed forward gradually, taking some prisoners.

The tactical air force, which devotes its attention to enemy troops, was confining its operations almost entirely to this one pocket, and a military spokesman said the enemy "has little possibility left of organized resistance in Africa and seems to be accepting that situation."

Fortune Shifts

The enemy elements which surrendered to the French in the Zaghouan area were various remnants, the biggest one being a large part of the Italian Supergas Division, which were grouped together in the current battle under German command and given the name of the Pfeifer Group.

Frenchmen throughout north Africa were heartened by this new evidence in the changing tide of the fortunes of the Germans who less than three years ago were imposing humiliating terms at Compiègne forest in France.

PRIZES GIVEN STUDENTS AT DAR ASSEMBLY

OPA POULTRY CEILING PRICES ARE ANNOUNCED

Maximum prices that can be charged for Grade "A" poultry in the Harrisburg 10-county area were announced today at the District OPA office.

The new price schedule is a part of an extensive campaign to smash the "black market" in poultry by sweeping changes in ceilings and simplifying of regulations to facilitate enforcement.

Substantial savings to the consumer are predicted as the result of the following measures:

1. Uniform prices are established for many different types of poultry. This is accomplished by marked reductions in prices of more expensive birds, and by increases in prices of cheaper poultry.

2. Prices of drawn poultry are reduced by as much as 1 to 15 cents per pound. Only one retail price is increased,—for stag and old roosters—boosted from 42c to 44c per pound.

Maximum retail prices for Grade "A" poultry in this district follow:

May Send Times To Men Overseas

Many Adams countians serving in the Army overseas are again receiving The Gettysburg Times.

Several months ago the Army and the Post Office department issued an order banning delivery of newspapers to the Army overseas. Shortly thereafter the order was amended permitting the delivery of newspapers to men and women in the Army overseas if the subscription was ordered by and paid for by anyone other than the publisher of a newspaper.

Many Adams countians took advantage of this opportunity and subscribed for The Gettysburg Times for their sons, brothers, fathers, relatives or friends serving overseas.

Each such subscription requires a special wrapper and identification all of which is provided by The Gettysburg Times.

If you wish to subscribe for The Gettysburg Times for some loved one serving overseas you may do so by telephoning the Circulation Department of The Times or calling at the business office.

The Gettysburg Times is like a "letter from home" to those Adams countians in service.

TAILOR SHOP THEFT PROBED

Local state police today warned owners of clothing stores and tailors to be on the watch for a stranger aged about 35, weighing 140 pounds, five feet seven inches tall and wearing a blue double-breasted suit believed to be the "advance agent" sent to "case" tailor shops prior to robbery.

The warning was issued following a robbery of 200 bolts of cloth valued at $3,600 from the Wentz and Birgensmith tailor shop early this morning at Hanover. Entrance to the building on Broadway was made by forcing a window. Police believe the robbery was done by a "professional" group going through this section. The theft follows a number of similar ones in Maryland, police said.

The stranger was seen in the tailor shop Tuesday and seemed very interested in all of the materials there but purchased nothing. Each of the 200 bolts contained three and one-half yards of cloth for men's suits. Each bolt was valued at $18. Chief of Police Frank Melhorn, Hanover, is investigating assisted by Corp. E. S. Moore and Pvt. R. W. Wagner of the local state police.

"America" was led by Miss Dorothy Brindle, supervisor of music. The assembly gave the pledge of allegiance and repeated the Lord's prayer. Presentation of awards was made by the regent, Mrs. R. S. Saby and then the prize essay was read. "My Country Is the World".

The address by Professor Heiges followed. He declared that "Patriotism is one of the basic qualities of the human heart. Not all patriotism is good. Some Americans get too noisy. Two hundred per cent Americanism is too much."

He urged Wendell Willkie's new book, "One World" as required reading for high school students and lauded the author's idea of world patriotism. The speaker said that in a world tour he made in 1938 he found the same reservoirs of good will toward the United States that Mr. Willkie mentions. In conclusion he called upon the students to dedicate themselves "to a new patriotism which says 'my country' in the last analysis is the world."

The program closed with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

War Fund Report

The synod Tuesday morning went on record as favoring continuation of biennial meetings of the General Synod as against a proposed triennial meeting. The more frequent meeting was especially favored in light of the critical period in national and world history. Regional consistorial conferences were advocated.

Contributions of $375,000 to the denomination's War Emergency Relief, a fund used in part to succor congregations and mission fields cut off by the war, were reported by the Rev. Dr. Richards. Speaking as representative from the General Council, he voiced the appeal of the church for students for the Christian ministry and mentioned the urgency of the need of men for the chaplaincy. The elderly churchman spoke of the proposed bases for union with the Congregational Christian church, which has a membership of 1,000,000, and presented the church-wide need for greater evangelistic effort by men and women in the pews.

Synod heard another general church office in the person of Dr. Silas P. Bittner, Philadelphia, secretary and treasurer of the pension board.

President's Report

Doctor Bittner spoke again Tuesday night at a service at 7:45 o'clock in the First Evangelical and Reformed church, convention host. It was the final evening service. The three-day meeting ended this afternoon on disposal of the last items of business.

In his fourth and final report as synod president, the Rev. Dr. Meck disclosed yesterday that 1,800 young men from congregations of the synod are in the armed forces. Synod, he reported, has 22,901 communicant members in 55 pastoral charges with 106 congregations. They contributed $50,728.20 for apportionment and $14,441.94 for special purposes. The Educational Emergency campaign netted $7,360 and War Emergency Relief, $4,412. The Hoffman orphanage received $10,530.70.

His report also revealed that three ministers were licensed in the year, three were ordained, eight installed and one became a Navy chaplain, that many churches made outstanding improvements to property, several increased building funds and some removed debts, that eight congregations increased pastors' salaries.

Aid Honest Dealers

Other measures to facilitate the flow of poultry through legitimate channels, and thus aid the honest dealer in fighting the "black market" operator include:

1. The establishment of F.O.B. pricing for sales of live poultry at county shipping points. Formerly the county shipper calculated his price on the basis of delivery to the buyer's place of business. This gave buyers from different cities different buying prices at the same point, and encouraged violations of ceilings. Now all buyers have the same ceiling at the same point.

2. The establishments of an allowance for truckers who haul live poultry to city markets, ranging from 3 cents to 2 cents per pound, depending upon the distance hauled. This allowance will be absorbed by wholesalers, who, in turn, are given a wider differential to take care of their processing costs.

3. The establishment of a wider differential for country dressers, designed to take care of normal and actual dressing costs. This action together with that of setting up a trucking allowance stabilizes live poultry prices at levels which were intended for them in the original regulation, and removes the squeeze which had oppressed both the country dresser and the live poultry trucker.

Intersectional Games Will Reveal Strength Of Major League Ball Teams

RED SOX SLOW START MAY BE DUE TO YANKS

By JUDSON BAILEY
(AP Sports Writer)

The major league season is three weeks old, but there is an evident widespread feeling that the games played thus far have proved very little about the ultimate strength of the various teams.

Two teams in each loop—the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals in the National, and the New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians in the American—have established themselves as pennant possibilities. But they were rated as such before the season started and nothing they have done in their early games has been particularly distinguishing.

For this reason the start of east-west play today in the two circuits was looked forward to eagerly. The western clubs seem to hold the balance of power in both leagues.

Yanks Clicking
The Yankees have a good chance of holding their two-game lead in the front rank. Their makeshift lineup has shown potential strength. The rookies in the infield have been doing well. Johnny Lindell, the pitcher converted into an outfielder and placed eighth in the batting order, has landed among the American league's ten leading hitters, and the pitching has been satisfactory.

New York's road trip will be opened against the weakling White Sox at Chicago, which also should help the Yanks because the Indians will be on the defense at Cleveland tonight against a strong, fourth-place Washington club.

Another question to be answered is whether the Boston Red Sox are really as pitiable as their present place in the American league cellar indicates. Their pitching has not been as strong as expected. Jim Tabor has flopped at third base and the outfield has been unpredictable. However, the fact they had to meet the Yankees eight times in their first 18 games may have had something to do with the Sox's slow start.

Boston opens at St. Louis today and the Philadelphia Athletics will be at Detroit.

Dodgers Uncertain
In the National League Brooklyn and St. Louis will be up against about equal opposition for the start of the intersectional struggle, the Dodgers playing the Pittsburgh Pirates in a twilight game and the Cardinals invading Boston.

To date the Dodgers have appeared slow, light hitting and uncertain in their pitching. It has not been as good a ball club as it looked in spring training. Although leading the league by two games, the club is not as far in front as its admirers had predicted when the Dodgers set out to feast on the Phillies, Braves and Giants.

The Cardinals, lacking their full strength at the start, have had the expected bitter battles with their western rivals, Chicago and Cincinnati. Now for the first time they will be meeting the kind of opposition previously faced by Brooklyn.

The Cincinnati Reds, still an unknown quantity, open their eastern junket at Philadelphia and the Chicago Cubs visit the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds. Like the Red Sox in the American league, the Cubs figured to be higher. They're hoping that it is true that the eastern clubs are not as tough as the ones they've been meeting in the west.

Interstate Opener Is Rained Out

(By The Associated Press)

The six teams in the Class B Interstate Baseball league will make another attempt to open their season tonight provided the weatherman gives them the green light.

All three games were postponed last night because of weather conditions.

Tonight's schedule and estimated attendance:

Hagerstown, Maryland, at York, Pa., 8:45 p. m. (EWT), 1,200.

Trenton, New Jersey, at Allentown, Pa., 8:30 p. m. (EWT), 2,000.

Wilmington, Delaware, at Lancaster, Pa., 8:15 p. m. (EWT), 2,000.

Bill Killefer Is Scouting For Phils

Philadelphia, May 12 (AP)—Bill Killefer returns to the Phillies as a scout this week.

One of the greatest catchers in the club's history, Killefer was a coach last year under Hans Lobert but took a job as a railroad detective when William Cox bought the Phillies. Cox announced his signing as a scout yesterday.

ONE-DAY MEET

New York, May 12 (AP)—Although the IC-4A track meet has been crowded into a single day, Don Burnham of Dartmouth will try to repeat the mile and half mile double he registered at the Pentagonal games at Philadelphia last Saturday. It has been done only three times in the 87 years of the meet.

Gordon Predicts Fewer Hunters

Harrisburg, May 12 (AP)—Executive Director Seth Gordon of the state Game commission predicts that this year's army of hunters will be considerably smaller than the 648,000 who took to Pennsylvania woods and fields in 1942.

"Still more men have gone into the armed forces and more are working long hours in defense plants," Gordon said.

Delay in fixing hunting season dates and bag limits, because the commission lacks a quorum, will not present a problem, the director said.

"Last year the seasons were set April 30 because of the uncertainty of war conditions although the usual practice has been to wait until July," he recalled.

A commission meeting to act on hunting dates was called for Thursday, then cancelled because of the automatic retirement of five of the eight commissioners with the Legislature's adjournment.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, May 12 (AP)—One of the choicer bits of sports nonsense is the "war" going on in the Pacific Coast conference over next fall's football program. . . . Graduate managers of the four southern schools decided they'd play a double round-robin schedule and let the six northern teams shift for themselves. The northern schools didn't like being shoved out of the big dough sector and they let everybody know it. . . . What makes it especially silly is that there's nothing official about the plan and there can't be until the ten faculty representatives meet June 14, and there's no telling what they'll decide.

LONG RANGE VIEW

From this distance, even 500 miles look like a heck of a distance to travel for a football game, no matter how much mileage they save.

Being safe from brickbats, we respectfully suggest they all look into some real backyard schedules, even if USC has to play the San Diego Bombers and California the St. Mary's Pre-Flight school every Saturday.

NO FORM CHARTS

Horse players find it a gloomy day when they have to handicap the OPA.

All they can do is play the chalk. And everybody get out and walk.

SHORTS AND SHELLS

The National Hockey league, which won't name a new president until after the war, is looking around for a comparatively young candidate who knows a lot about hockey and enough about law to straighten out the tangles the clubs get themselves into. . . . For the first time in about ten years, Louisiana State won't be the favorite in the Southeastern conference track meet Saturday.

The experts are picking Mississippi State. Mickey Owen, usually a hard-to-sign guy, won't have another salary argument with the Dodgers until 1946. Branch Ricker gave him a three-year contract this spring. . . . Now that Greg Rice has joined the Maritime Service, he has to learn to swim—so watch out for more records.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Art McGinley, Hartford (Conn.) Times: "A man could have done all right with the fur coat concession for April in our baseball parks."

WHICH WAY?

Presy Ray Dumont of the National Semi-Pro Baseball congress, who gets complimentary passes from sandlot teams all over the country, doesn't think he'll make use of the one that was sent him from Madison, Iowa, the other day. . . . It came from Warden Percy A. Lainsen of the Iowa State penitentiary, and it didn't say whether it was to get in for games or to get out.

SERVICE DEPT.

Lieut. Col. Larry MacPhail recently substituted for Under Secretary of War Patterson on a visit to Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia, to review the WAACs. Larry had better training for the job. . . . The All-Officer Baseball team of the Army School for Special Service at Washington and Lee university, played two ball games last week and won them both.

Lieut. Dave Zinkoff, former Philadelphia sports announcer modestly claims credit—he was umpire. . . . Another reason for the shortage of sports news: The Peoria, Illinois, Journal-Transcript is the second paper we've heard of that has contributed nine members of its sports staff to the armed forces.

LAST WORD

A couple of the Yankees were discussing Roy Partee, the Red Sox rookie catcher. . . . "He looks like a swell little catcher," one of them said. "How does he look hitting?" "He looks," replied Coach Johnny Schulte, "like that's what he does best."

COX, FORMER G-BURG STAR, NOW U.P. ACE

By TED MEIER

Philadelphia, May 12 (AP)—Pennsylvania panorama of sports—news and gossip from here and there.

Dick Peebles, former sports editor of the Sharon Herald and a brother of Ray Peebles, sports editor on the Erie Dispatch-Herald, writes from New Cumberland that "It's a good thing we're (the New Cumberland army reception team) not in Tommy Richardson's Eastern league. We took three in a row from Wilkes-Barre, 1-0, 4-3 and 12-11, then knocked off Scranton two straight 6-3, 4-0."—Dick, now a corporal, points out the club lost its first two starts to the Phillies, 5-3 and to Buffalo, 8-1, but now boasts a six-game winning streak.

Cox Sparks Penn

"Jerry" Frock, football coach at Lebanon Valley college, has been commissioned a lieutenant in the Navy—he reports to the pre-flight school at Chapel Hill, North Carolina on May 27 for a 30-day indoctrination course—the addition of Ralph Cox, former Gettysburg college pitcher and now a cadet in the Navy pre-flight school at the University of Pennsylvania, makes the red and blue one of the favorites to win the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball league title for the first time in 12 years—Charley "Chuck" Hyatt, whose basketball feats at Uniontown high and University of Pittsburgh have become a legend, now is a lieutenant in the army, stationed at Sheppard Field, Texas.

Chic Feldman, sports editor of the Scranton Tribune, was the principal speaker Saturday night at the annual banquet of the Stroud Courier, East Stroudsburg Teachers' college publication—he received a silver key for "meritorious service rendered through journalism."

LITWHLER IS BIG PHIL AID

By TED MEIER

Philadelphia, May 12 (AP)—Danny Litwiler, the "freshman wonder" who slumped as a "sophomore" outfielder with the Phillies last year, again is pounding the horsehide at better than a 300 clip.

The 27-year-old outfielder from Ringtown, Pa., is one of the five top clouters in the National league with a .340 average which is just one more reason why the club may be lifting itself into the sunlight of the first division.

"I just feel good up there," commented Danny, who has connected for three homers and driven in 11 runs so far. His first year with the Phillies he set a major league record by playing errorless ball in 151 games, batting .305 at the same time. His batting mark slipped to .271 in 1942.

"They said I had a blind spot last year," he said, "but I think I've overcome that. I had a tendency to crouch and Bucky (Manager Bucky Harris) advised me to straighten up. I've been doing that and find I hit better. I hit a curve, a fast ball and a floater for my three homers. I'm confident I can hit any kind of pitch."

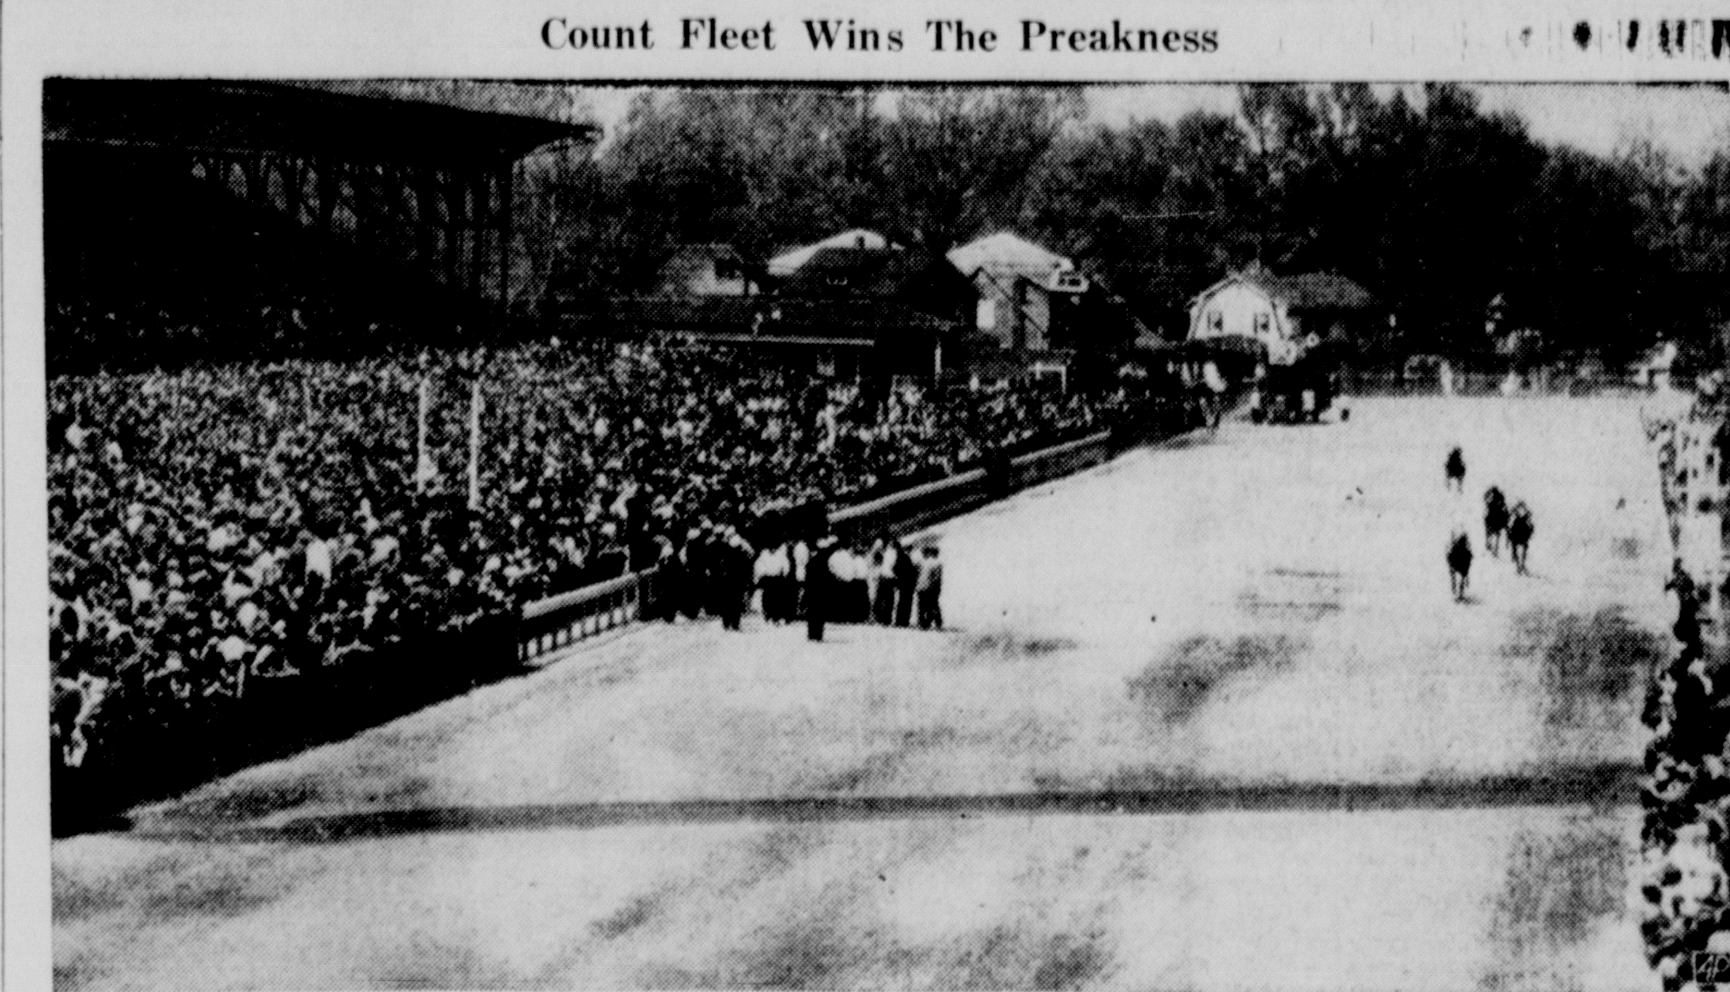

"Danny Boy" has batted in 150 runs, 66 of them in 1941, and connected for 35 homers in his major league career. Reflecting the Phillies' new team spirit, he says he'd give up a record of 100 runs batted in if it meant the team would finish in the first division.

"We're no setups this year," he warned.

PENN AND ARMY LIST GRID TILT

Philadelphia, May 12 (AP)—Penn and Army will play a football game on Franklin field next Oct. 30, the University of Pennsylvania announced yesterday.

Army was to meet Harvard on that date before the Crimson abandoned intercollegiate football for 1943, while Penn was matched with Lafayette until the latter curtailed its schedule.

Connie's Son Will Succeed Him When—

Philadelphia, May 12 (AP)—When Connie Mack steps aside as manager of the Athletics—if ever—he'll be succeeded by his second son, Earle, who has been his right hand man since 1924.

Baseball's dean of them all confirmed this yesterday for the first time, saying that his heir apparent would "probably do a better job than his dad."

Like Connie, Earle, 51, began playing baseball on the sandlots of East Brookfield, Mass. He spent 14 years as player manager in the minor leagues, and joined the A's as assistant manager 19 years ago.

"So far I've been a big handicap to him," mused the 80-year-old Connie. "I expect it's the same with all dads whose sons are in the same business. But he's been a wonderful help to me."

Post-War Needs Are Told To Rotarians

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., May 12 (AP)—The post-war world will need an association of nations with power to enforce its decisions, says a past president of Rotary International, Dr. Walter D. Head of Montclair, New Jersey.

Doctor Head, in an address before the 177th District Rotary conference Monday, likened the extinct League of Nations to a well-uniformed police force without the power to make arrests.

In another address, Dr. Harry S. Fish of Sayre, Pa., declared that scientific advances stemming from the war will revolutionize American conditions.

TEACHERS END STRIKE

Scranton, Pa., May 12 (AP)—Seventy Throop township teachers ended a one-day strike today after school directors assured them they would receive four months' back pay from a $40,000 state grant today or tomorrow.

WITH ARM WIRED UP, HUBBELL TO TRY FOR 250TH

By Harold Claassen

New York, May 12 (AP)—Despite the war, the New York Giants have found enough wire to bind together the creaking left arm of Carl Owen Hubbell and "Old Square Pants" will open his sixteenth major league campaign today.

Hubbell, whose 40th birthday is June 22, will be trying for his 250th Victory—a goal both Ted Lyons of the Chicago White Sox and Charles Ruffing of the New York Yankees reached last summer. Both are now in the armed forces and if Hubbell makes the grade today he will be the only active major league twirler with that record.

The southpaw has been kept on the bench until warm weather in recent years but the Giants of today are doing so poorly that Manager Mel Ott, in deepest desperation, is starting the meal ticket against the Chicago Cubs.

Strong Enough Last Year

Despite his late starts in recent years the Meeker, Oklahoma, resident has won 11 games in each of the past four seasons.

And, although his arm has lost some of the cunning it had back in 1934 when Hubbell whiffed five American leaguers in a row during the all-star game, it still was strong enough to help lift the Giants to third place last year after Cliff Melton was lost to the club because of an arm injury.

Melton, who again is being troubled with a sore elbow, rejoined the club after a brief sojourn with the doctors and told Ott the joint was sound but the manager decided not to delay Hubbell's 1943 unveiling.

Ex-County Hurler Wins For Army Nine

Corp. Norris Slaybaugh, who is stationed at Clearwater, Florida, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marks Slaybaugh, Gardners R. 2, has won 13 straight baseball games this spring pitching for the 606th Training Group.

Slaybaugh, who formerly hurled for Adams county teams, has pitched 13 straight games played by the 606th team, which has been undefeated since its opening game. The team is favored to win a round robin playoff of training group teams at Clearwater.

HOSPITAL

This is the house of man's nobler side.The roof of his tenderest care,
This is what gives him the right to pride.

Here is his will to share.

Here own his heart and his soul be foundIn one pure, unselfish plan.
The finest use man has made of ground
Since ever the race began.Nothing is here in the name of gain Or advantage for self entire.
All is to lessen the sting of pain
And the burning of fever's fire.This is a hospital, large or small,
Where mercy and skill abide;
Perhaps of man's works, the best of all

By which he is justified.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

THE OPEN DOOR

I like open doors. The door of my office is always open, for I want people to know that they are always welcome there. Even in my home
I feel better when all the doors throughout the house are open.In the Summer months it is pleasing to the eye to see the doors of homes open, as well as the windows.
It shows that people live in the side and like to let in the light and air which contribute the greatest share to health.Shakespeare has a pathetic line in one of his plays where he says that "Men shut their doors against a setting sun," and Walt Whitman has left us these lines:"Shut not your doors to me proud libraries. For that which was lacking on all your well-filled shelves, yet needed most, I bring."If I were a minister, and had charge of a church, I would call it The Church of the Open Door. The mere word Welcome would not be enough. There is a silent and invisible invitation to the very phrase of The Open Door.I recently called upon a newspaper editor. I gave my name to the Secretary and asked if I could see him. She smiled and pointed to an open door. "There he is in there.
Walk right in. He won't mind."Big men don't often keep their office doors closed. They like to meet folks—if they bring something with them—cheer, or ideas, for example.One of the most beautiful of all verses in the Book of Revelation is that one which says: "Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me."With the invisible doors of one's mind and heart ever open, life can be made beautiful, with the light of knowledge streaming into the mind, and the warmth of human companionship dispelling the mists of doubt and fear, each re-enforcing the faith by which we live.Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Trying to Be Happy."

DORM UNROOFED

Loretto, Pa., May 12 (AP)—The roof was blown off the three-story dormitory at St. Francis college Saturday by a windstorm which at times reached an estimated velocity of 50 miles per hour. Damage to the hall was slight, however, being estimated at around $1,000 by school officials.

Axis Attempts Outward Calm In Face Of Allied Invasion

HITLER GIRDS
FOR "BATTLE
FOR GERMANY"London, May 12 (AP)—The impending "battle for Germany," sharply focused by Prime Minister Churchill's conferences in Washington with President Roosevelt, found Axis propaganda agencies attempting to present an outward front of calm confidence today.After fishing all yesterday for news on the whereabouts of the British prime minister, the Berlin radio in its early morning domestic news broadcast pointedly ignored official Allied announcements that he is now in Washington.Instead, the German people were told that Adolf Hitler, whose headquarters had long been described as on the eastern front, now is at an unspecified point in the west; that Prof. Albert Speer, Nazi minister of munitions, reported to Hitler yesterday on the construction of "The Atlantic Wall"; and that "victory without compromise" would remain the goal for which Germany and her partners are striving.Hitler's Hand
There was no immediate elaboration either on Hitler's sudden return from the eastern front or the Berlin radio reference to the Atlantic wall, but it seemed clear that Hitler would take a personal hand in preparations for the next Allied blow.The "victory without compromise" reference was the Berlin radio's public comment on Generalissimo Francisco Franco's recent call for peace, which some observers had believed might have been Berlin-inspired. "It is only natural," the broadcast went on, "that in the fourth year of global war such discussions should be occasionally voiced.""Battle About to Begin"
The Axis itself termed the next phase in the global war "the battle for Germany."The Axis-controlled Danish radio, in a pep talk dealing with difficulties facing an Allied invasion of Hitler's European fortress, said yesterday: "This battle for Germany is about to begin. The situation is unique in the history of war."The Algiers radio said that anti-war slogans are appearing in Italy and the German radio lent its voice to quiet Italian fears. It quoted Il Duce's Popolo d'Italia as saying that "the British and American landing in Italy will not prove so easy as bombing Italian towns."

Dutch Executions

But even as Axis propaganda built up this picture of calmness and confidence, Berlin dispatches to neutral Switzerland told of lowered weekly allowances in food in Germany; of rising unrest and the highest pitch of hope in occupied countries since the war began, and German retaliation already under way in Holland.Germany, a Berlin dispatch to the Swiss Tribune de Geneve said, will now eat mostly bread, vegetables and flour products. Meat portions have been cut 100 grams (3½ ounces) to 250 grams, the lowest since the start of the war, it said.Trouble in Holland was foreshadowed in a German-controlled Dutch newspaper which was quoted as saying that "agitation has turned into unreasonable unrest, which has already assumed a dangerous and intolerable form." One continental dispatch told of the execution of 26 Dutch patriots on May 2 and the imposition of the death sentence on 10 others.Two Re-appointed To State Milk BoardHarrisburg, May 12 (AP)—Chairman John M. McKee of Cumberland county and H. N. Cobb of Bradford county have been re-appointed members of the Milk Control commission for indefinite terms by Governor Martin.Originally appointed by former Governor Arthur H. James but never confirmed by the Senate, their names were withdrawn by Martin when he assumed office and their terms automaticaly expired with adjournment of the Legislature.

CONSIDER MILK
RATION PLANWashington, May 12 (AP)—Further restrictions on civilian consumption of dairy products appeared to be in the cards today as government dairy authorities expressed discouragement over 1943 milk production prospects.Although none would make any forecasts, officials of the War Food administration said thought was being given to proposals for rationing fluid milk in deficit producing areas and evaporated milk in all areas and for curtailing use of milk in some dairy products.The Food administration is studying a production report of the Federal Crop Reporting board which said the late spring, with generally retarded pastures, and shortages of high-protein feeds and skilled labor in many areas "have discouraged hopes for a record milk production."The government's food program calls for an increase in milk over last year's peak level. The crop board said April production fell one per cent below that of the same month last year. The slump reflected a decline in the number of cows being milked and a drop in the average volume per cow.Churchill Lauds Yankee GeneralLondon, May 12 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill, in a congratulatory message to Gen. Dwight D.
Eisenhower, said "the simultaneous advance of the British and United States armies side by side into Tunis and Bizerte is an augury full of hope for the future of the world.""Let me add my heartfelt congratulations to those which have been sent to you by His Majesty and the war cabinet on the brilliant result of the north African campaign by the Army under your supreme direction," Churchill's message said."The comradeship and conduct with which you sustained the troops engaged in the fierce and prolonged battle in Tunisia, and the perfect understanding and harmony preserved amidst the shock of war between the British and United States forces and with our French allies, have proved a solid foundation for Victory."Second Victim Of

A 66-year-old Vanport (Pa.) resident, James A. Wylie, died Monday of injuries he received when struck by an automobile in which police said four youths were fleeing after ab-ducting and robbing a Youngstown physician.Miss Mary L. Cochrane, 44, of Monongahela, Pa., also struck by the car as it was being pursued by five police cruisers last Tuesday, died four days after she was injured.
The youths are being held pending filing of charges.Planes Over Palermo
"Like Swarm Of Bees"Allied Headquarters in North Africa, May 12 (AP)—American airplanes in the great bombing attack on Palermo, Sicily, last Sunday reminded Second Lieutenant Robert Wells of Pittsburgh of "a locust plague or a swarm of bees."
"The sky was literally filled," he said. "Squadron after squadron of bombers joined us as we circled our rendezvous point."

HIGHWAY TO HER HEART

by MAXINE SHORE

Chapter 7

Cleve released her and sat down on a boulder. Soberly he stroked his chin. He looked very handsome with his face in profile, eyes staring out over the river.

He said, "Then I can't persuade you to change your mind?"

"No."

Cleve leaned over and took Penny's hand.

"This puts me in a spot, young lady. A hot spot. If you insist on going, I'll have to go, too. What the devil would Bill say if I didn't? On the other hand—"

He paused, picked up a small pebble, and tossed it out into the current moodily.

"Yes," said Penny impatiently. "One the other hand—what?"

"Penny!"

"You mean he'll fire you?"

"Put yourself in his place," Cleve said. "Another man running off with your girl. What would you do?"

"I don't know," answered Penny. "I know what he'll think," Cleve went on. "He'll think I'm in love with you, that I—that we—"

Penny laughed, a bit hysterically. "How utterly absurd!"

Cleve glanced at her sharply. "Yes, isn't it? Still, your fiancé has a right to his opinion. His opinion of me won't be very high, I'm afraid."

"Let's forget Powell," Penny said, "and concentrate on Bill. What are we going to do about that—just sit here and argue the morning away?"

She stooped, picked up the puppy, and got into the canoe.

Cleve rose, too, with sudden decision. His expression was grave. But he was alert and ready now.

A pair of strong hands pushed the partially beached craft out into the stream. He stepped aboard, balancing precariously. Then he took his position near the center of the canoe, caught up the paddle, and suddenly they were moving with the current.

It had all happened so quickly that Penny caught her breath. She sat astonished in the stern, hugging Wolf. Her eyes were on Cleve's set face.

"Are we really going then? You won't turn back?"

Cleve grunted something and his paddle turned the bow of the canoe farther outstream. There the current was swift, flaked with foam. Penny could see blue-white haze rising above the surface. She could hear the roar of water.

"We're off!" Cleve called.

Jets of spray flew over the sides of the canoe as they headed into the central current. Wolf, the little malemute, raised his sharp muzzle and howled.

Penny was thrilled. They were actually on their way to Le Frene's shack.

"Modern voyagers," she thought. "On the trail of Alexander MacKenzie and Simon Fraser—and the gentlemen adventurers of the Hudson's Bay company."

Cleve's hat lay in the bottom of the canoe. The light breeze ruffled his dark hair.

Millions Would Be Listed For Liquor

Harrisburg, May 12 (AP)—Liquor rationing, if it comes in Pennsylvania, will mean the registration by the state Liquor Control Board of three to four million individuals and licensees, Chairman Frederick T. Gelder estimated today.

Authority to make regulations for equitable distribution of supplies is given the state liquor monopoly in legislation awaiting Governor Martin's action.

Declining to predict when the liquor board would decide whether to institute rationing, Gelder said such a program would provide the board with a tremendous job in registering buyers. Methods used in other states are being studied, especially registration methods in Ohio and Michigan, he said.

500 Live Poultry Stores Are Closed

Philadelphia, May 12 (AP)—The 500 members of the Philadelphia Live Poultry Dealers association failed to open stores Tuesday in a mass protest against what they termed "black market" activities by certain New York dealers.

"We will stay closed until the black market is driven from Philadelphia," declared David N. Feldman, counsel for the association, as chicken and other poultry disappeared from the market.

Maurice Stern, office of Price Administration attorney, told the meeting which voted the suspension last night that evidence is being gathered against a group of New York dealers but that the OPA is hindered by a shortage of investigators.

Cleve shook his head. "Not likely," he answered. "Perhaps we just think we're travelling faster than we really are."

"I hope so," Penny said.

POSTOFFICE TO DISTRIBUTE WAR
RATION BOOK 3

Acting Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyler has received instructions from Washington on the plan for handling the distribution of application forms for War Ration Book Three to the residents of the area served by the local post office. Supplies of the application forms are expected at the Federal building next week, Mr. Oyler said.

The forms will be distributed to the public generally, beginning on Thursday, May 20. The forms will be distributed to all patrons of the local office by city, rural, and star route carriers performing box delivery and through lock boxes and call boxes. A supply will be kept on hand for persons who call at the post office.

Delivery of the forms by carriers must be completed not later than June 5 but cards will be available on call to and including June 10.

The applications must be mailed by the applicants prior to midnight of June 10. Those postmarked later than that deadline will be held by the OPA for later handling, it has been announced. The application forms will not be available at the postoffice after June 10 but can be secured only from ration board offices.

The completed application forms being returned by the applicants must bear the regular letter-rate postage.

Delivery of War Ration Book Three is scheduled to be made between June 20 and July 20.

Wills Must Be Signed Says Court

Philadelphia, May 12 (AP)—A will must be signed no matter how clear the intention of the person who made it, according to a new ruling of the Pennsylvania Supreme court.

The court held Monday, sustaining the action of the Beaver county register of wills who refused to probate the unsigned will of Sarah Brown, that the state law requiring signed wills, "is subject to rigid construction."

The case was heard on the appeal of Henry Brown and others from a Beaver county orphan's court decision.

APHRODITE AND DENTIST "DIZZY"

Philadelphia, May 12 (AP)—The marital tangle of Dr. Albert Samuelli and his aphrodite, the Panama night club singer who wants it understood she's from Pittsburgh—was a step nearer solution today but the dentist confessed he was "dizzy" and the lady said her head, too, was "in a whirl."

A charge of threatened assault, brought against aphrodite Rita Morfettes—who is Mrs. Samuelli in Panama but not in Pennsylvania—by Mrs. Ruth Samuelli who insists she is still the former Naval lieutenant's only wife, was dismissed yesterday by Judge Curtis Bok.

Told by Samuelli that he obtained a divorce in Panama and then married the singer, Judge Bok commented, "those divorces are not worth the paper they are written on and you know that."

Pending meanwhile are charges of bigamy and assault against the dentist, who told reporters, "we expect everything to be settled shortly. Rita will get an annulment here and my first wife will get a divorce."

The singer, however, who said she was born in Pittsburgh and lived in New York most of her life, announced she was going back to Panama, where she met Samuelli.

"I have my ticket," she said, "but what with all this trouble I've lost my priority for a seat on the plane. I'll go as soon as I can."

New Pennies Don't Stay White Long

Philadelphia, May 12 (AP)—The Philadelphia mint's new white pennies don't stay white very long.

Because of atmospheric action on their zinc surfaces "once they leave us they eventually become blue-gray," says Superintendent Edwin S. Dressel.

Dressel said the mint has shipped 28,568,677 new-type pennies since production began February 1, while 12,500,000 Lincoln pennies have been minted to use up available metal stocks.

SIGNS OF HELP
IN COAL DISPUTE;
NONE SURE-FIRE

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS

Washington, May 12 (AP)—While as yet there are no signs of any sure-fire way of averting another soft coal walkout when the current wage dispute truce expires next week, the government was hoping today for help from four quarters.

Here is the outlook:

1. Secretary Ickes, the nation's mining boss, may get an extension of the 15-day truce which runs out Tuesday midnight.
2. There is a possibility that a War Labor Board panel may be able to whip into shape an interim report in time for the board to take some action by the coming week-end.
3. Congress may rush to the President's desk legislation stringent enough to discourage another tieup of the soft coal industry.
4. President Roosevelt may invoke additional powers as commander in chief to back up his insistence that coal must be mined.

President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers promised a statement for late today but intensified the war of nerves by refraining from any indication of its nature. It may refer only to the anthracite dispute in which negotiations are continuing.

Most Washington officialdom conceded privately that unless there is some positive government action a substantial part if not all of the bituminous mines will be idle next Wednesday. Officers of all UMW districts in the Pennsylvania and Ohio bituminous fields announced there would be no work after Tuesday without a contract or its equivalent.

Similar threats of another tieup came from Wyoming, Utah, Mis-

School District Must Pay For Current

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., May 12 (AP)—Avoca school district must pay its electric bill, despite a long-standing borough ordinance to the contrary.

The board was ordered by Judge J. Harold Flannery yesterday to pay $2,044.04 to the Scranton Electric company, which contested the board's claim that under an 1897 ordinance it was entitled to free current.

The company cited court decisions to the effect that a utility is guilty of discrimination if it gives service without charge to any consumer.

souri, Kansas, Washington, Colorado and New Mexico. Brief strikes have occurred since the truce period began as miners protested fines levied by operators for stoppages in violation of the old agreement prior to May 1. At Uniontown, Pa., a local union fined 25 mine workers for working in response to Mr. Roosevelt's appeal.

The WLB panel headed by Morris L. Cooke finished hearing the operators' arguments yesterday and planned a conference for today with experts from OPA, Agriculture, and the Bureau of Labor Statistics to discuss food rations and prices in the mining towns. A hearing on the anthracite dispute was postponed indefinitely because of continuing negotiations in New York.

"Nearsighted" OPA Policy Assailed

Pittsburgh, May 12 (AP)—An announcement of the South Penn Oil company, largest supplier of Pennsylvania grade crude, that deliveries would be cut 15 per cent June 1 and 20 per cent on July 1, based upon May deliveries, brought an immediate charge from oil men that the "nearsighted policy of the OPA" was responsible for the decreased output.

Ralph T. Zook of Bradford, vice chairman of the production committee for District 1, spoke for the oil operators in a statement making the "nearsighted policy" charge and asserting the resulting drop in production bore out predictions by the oil industry made as early as the fall of 1941.
